PLAY A WAITING GAME NOT IN ANY DANGER

STEEL STRIKE IS STILL ON IN PITTSBURG.

Workmen Hold Mass Meeting And Decide They Will Stay Out

Pittsburg, Pa., July 21—The strike of the employees of the Pressed Steel Car Company has resolved itself into a waiting game on the part of both the strikers and the car company officials.

After two conferences today between counsel for the car company and counsel for the strikers it was announced that no settlement had been reached. The conferences were explained as attempts on the part of the strikers to show the car company of facts evidence of graft, under pay and general abuses received at the hands of minor employees of the car company at the Schoenerville plant.

Attorney Beal, appearing for the car company, stated that the strikers' complaints in a large degree were misunderstandings with time keepers.

Attorney McNeir for the strikers, claimed, however, that the men had suffered untold wrongs at the hands of the car company officials and that today's conference as far as the strikers side was concerned, was partially successful, inasmuch as the car company promised to investigate certain claims of under pay.

A mass meeting was held today and on a vote the men declared they will not return to work under any circumstances until the company agrees to their demands.

The hearings of the alleged strike leaders arrested last week on charges of meeting to riot and threatening to kill, are scheduled for tomorrow.

Few men were at work at the car company plant today.

UNFORTUNATE MISTAKE

Edith Griggs, the 7-years old granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Griggs, residing two miles east of town says the Unadilla Lender is suffering intensely from a drop of carbolic acid in her left eye inserted by Mrs. P. A. R. Phelps, a sister of Mrs. Griggs, who thought she had a bottle of eye water. The two bottles were on the mantel near together and the room dark at the time Mrs. Phelps took the bottle down to relieve the little girl's sore eye before she retired Tuesday night. Dr. Wooten attended her soon afterward and again early yesterday morning, the lids were closed by swelling and the physician could not determine whether the sight is affected.

TAKES HER OWN LIFE

Mrs. U. C. Sellers, wife of a prominent physician of Enterprise, took her own life night before last. Despondency caused by bad health is supposed to have been the cause.

Mrs. Sellers leaves a husband and four children.

If wanting anything high grade and up to date in the Rubber Stamp line "The Best Only," drop me a postal to call. All of the banks here are using stamps from me and like them. Ask Truwick, Agt. So. Exp. Co. about them. Yours respectfully, Chas. A. Kirke, Confederate Veteran, Dothan, Ala. P. O. 126

MANAGEMENT OF A AND ST A B ROAD

Reports That Sir Manteo Was Held In St. Andrews Bay Till Storm Passed

There is little cause for uneasiness on the part of Dothan people about those on the Manteo excursion to New Orleans being in any danger from the storm that has been sweeping the gulf coast.

The management of the A and St. A. B. Road report that Captain McLaughlin held the Manteo in the Bay at Panama until the storm had passed the point, leaving until nine o'clock yesterday morning.

As the storm had reached Galveston yesterday morning it will easily be seen that the Manteo is well in its element and should be in no danger at all. The gulf may be a little rough after such a slow and the folks are probably a little off in their apprehensions, but they should be in no danger at all.

CLAYTON'S LETTER TO

EUFULA TIMES

The following letter from Congressman H. D. Clayton is published by the Eufula Times.

"Gentlemen: I read with pleasure every morning your bright and interesting little daily. I congratulate you upon the success you are making of the dear old Times which has been read with pleasure by the good people of our splendid little city for several generations.

This letter is prompted by your editorial in the issue of the 17th instant, headed 'The Proposed Railroad.' The facts are well stated by you and your argument in favor of the benefit that the railroad would be to Eufula is self-evident and ought to be convincing to your people.

For several years I have been co-operating with the enterprising people of Dothan and the Florida congressman and people of Eufula at St. Andrews Bay. I have all along believed that the Chitahouchee Valley ought to have an outlet to deep water at St. Andrews Bay. You know that we cannot on account of the railroad freight ship our cotton to New Orleans, practically it must all go to Savannah.

With deep water at St. Andrews Bay and railroad connection our cotton for export can be landed at St. Andrews Bay at a lower cost than at any other place. The people of Dothan are determined to have this advantage and are doing all we can to help them get it and I want to see Eufula and the whole Chitahouchee Valley country get the benefit of this additional sea port on the gulf.

How long congress will remain in session is today about as much for event weeks as a mere matter of guess work. The republican conferences on the tariff bill has gone into secret session. How much they are at variance with each other we do not know. The leading republicans are visiting the White House daily, conferring with the President. If it comes they will get together on a program we do not know.

I do not believe that the Payne Aldrich bill will be any improvement.

GREAT STORM THREATENS GALVESTON, TEX.

BUT THE SEVENTEEN-FOOT SEA WALL SHUTS OUT THE ANGRY WATERS OF THE GULF AND THE CITY SUFFERS SMALL LOSS

The Storm Covers A Wide Area On The Gulf Coast and Damages Cannot Yet Be Estimated—Fishing Pier Completely Demolished

Galveston, Texas, July 21—Man's strength and skill were pitted against the fury of the elements today and man won when the city of Galveston safely endured behind her impregnable 17 foot sea wall withstood with comparatively trifling loss a tidal wave and hurricane equal in intensity and destructive force to the one which destroyed the city on September 5, 1900.

In Galveston and vicinity not a single life is believed to have been sacrificed but the material losses are thought to be quite extensive. The hurricane swept the entire gulf coast even as far south as Matagorda bay. That some lives were lost and that much property was destroyed is the general belief tonight. With waves down and railroad communication destroyed the exact loss is impossible to estimate.

The hurricane struck Galveston about 11 o'clock this morning. The wind attaining a velocity of nearly seventy miles an hour, whipped the treacherous waters of the Mexican Gulf into a fury of destruction. With the pent up rage of ten years of hate the waves blindly assaulted the grim parapets of stone, which man had builded to restrain its attacks. In vain it hurled its thousands of tons of water upon splendid fortifications. Only a feeble burst of spray and a little water reached its objective and the beheld its fury calm and safe behind the wall.

Wall Baffles Waves

Outside the limits of the city where the wall had not been built and where the city had not been elevated the waters had their way but they were kept only a short time and abandoned their attack. In this section of the city which is low and sparsely settled the water rose to a height of seven feet but the weather bureau warning had been heeded and the people had removed their possessions out of the danger zone.

From other cities in the affected area come tales of narrow escapes and much destruction of property. The only anxiety expressed now is for the smaller towns, villages and summer resorts with which the Gulf coast is thickly settled. In the history of other gulf storms it has been this type of villages which suffered most from the waters.

The entire Gulf coast is very low and off is absolutely a protection from the storm of waves. But the summer hotel and the home summer cottages dot the low land shelter thousands of people and happy pleasure seekers. What their fate has been is not yet known. It will be as the storm sweeps on no one can tell.

There is no communication by wire with the island city. Galveston tonight. A schooner torn from her berth by the wind smashed into the span of the one bridge which connects Galveston with the mainland and severed the telegraph and telephone cables as well as rendered unsafe the bridge. Tonight all communication with the world is by tugs.

Ten Lives Are Lost

Ten dead is the total number of lives so far as is known. While the city of Galveston washes itself against the fury of the storm by the new government $2,000,000 sea wall built on the Gulf. A Japanese fishing pier seven miles from the city where the storm whirled over the pier into the bay ten persons were killed from the rocky promontories to the gulf. Boats tonight anchoring the bay for the boats but so far have been unharmed.

Mr. Arthur Pittman and Mrs. Mabel Warwick were married at the home of Mr. F. D. Prevatt last evening. Only a few friends of the bride and groom were present. Mr. and Mrs. Pittman left the city.

It is rumored that the A and St. A. B. Railroad officials are going to invite President Taft to come to Dothan from New Orleans. He is to come on the Manteo to Panama City.

HIT BY CLOUDBURST

LOSS CAUSED BY WATER IN WISCONSIN

State Fish Hatchery Near Bayfield Almost Completely Destroyed

Ashland, Wis., July 21—A cloudburst late last night caused $500,000 loss of property in North Wisconsin. The power plant at White River was washed out completely.

The state fish hatchery near Bayfield was nearly washed away and the millions of fish carried into the lake. No trains can get into Ashland from any direction. A train and reports of the cloudburst from Ashland, Wis., state there were two distinct cloudbursts. Several persons are reported drowned at Olin.

ABOLISH FILIBUSTER COURT

Georgia Legislators Take Away Hamilton Court

Atlanta, Ga., July 21—The bill to take away the Hamilton Court which delayed the passage of prohibition in Georgia for four days two years ago was abolished by the house today. The act of repeal passed the house literally with a broad smile and a vote of 120 to 0.

TRAIN IN COLLISION

Under the heading, "A Vacation," the Opelika Morning Post remarks, "On this subject W. M. Anderson of Chicago, writes the best article we have read. Mr. Anderson says," and then copies Brother Anderson's letter to the Eagle. We appreciate the Post's complimentary remarks on Brother Anderson's letter and the honor paid him in copying it, but we just want to let the Post know that W. M. Anderson is a Dothan man, Pastor of the First Baptist church here and is only in Chicago to take a special course at the University and get a few weeks' quiet rest before returning to this city.

Last Sunday's Advertiser contained a full page advertisement of the town of Eufaula which cost the citizens and Commercial Club one hundred and twenty-five dollars. Among the town's advantages and attractions, as set forth by the Advertiser, was the following:

"Besides its many materials for manufacturing, the live business men say that they also have in Eufaula, some first class material for at least a few funerals. For Eufaula, like almost all other cities has several men in it who could not see a business proposition any quicker than a ground mole could see the New Jerusalem."

The Eufaula Times rises to make the following remarks on the subject:

"Now, the Times does not care to place itself on record by saying this is not so, for it may be and probably is the case, but we do take the stand that it is poor advertising for Eufaula to tell this boldly to the outside world. In other words, we invited capital into Eufaula here, and in another breath informed them to stay away because some business men could not see a business proposition any quicker than a ground mole could see the New Jerusalem. I would have been better for Eufaula if the citizens had contributed one hundred and twenty-five dollars to The Advertiser not to say anything at all rather than something it did publish to the world."

We may have one or two such men in Dothan, but we don't think so. Our business men are wide awake, as a rule, although they do not advertise as much as we would like for them to. But the point is, compare Eufaula's $125.00 with what Dothan has been getting since the Press Association met here. Was it wise to enter them?

AS TO SPRINGS.

Springs are valuable things. Not the one to which we used to take the horses for water, but the steel contrivances that you feel when you sit on the fancy bot-tomed leather chairs; the kind that makes your watch or your clock go; the kind that are conducive to comfort in rail-way cars, and in a hundred other ways.

Few people have ever stopped and given the matter of springs much consideration. Yet the different functions which they perform for the comfort and convenience of man in every day life are many. They make the beds be-tter, have a part to perform in the operation of typewriter, auto-mobile, adding machine; steam engines need many springs, buggies and wagons ride better with springs, looks, both large and small, have springs—in fact, if you take the art originated by Beethoven from us, we are like a ship without a rudder, a mili-tary company without a com-manding officer, a political party without a leader, a cow without a cud. We would have to go back and do it all over again. Springs are nerve soothers.

Now, there's another spring of a different kind, a place where people go who think they are sick, and because their doctor knows they can stand the vicissitudes of the trip, and the ex-pense thereto.

These springs are places where down water that is said to be good for different ailments, but you seldom find a native who will drink it. It always tastes bad and any kind of bad tasting wa-ter will draw people just like honey dew will draw bees. Peo-ple want to take water for their ailments that smells like a collu-er or a freshly opened grocery store and tastes like opium salts or stamp water. Heard a doctor say one day that he had a prescription he always prescribed for a patient of a certain make up. The medicine, to do that class good had to be in big doses must be bitter and small a little like spoiled sardines. If it didn't it was no go and in would lose the patient not through cause of death but because the patient would go off to some other doctor who would fix up a better medi-cine that looked black and knock the children down when they un-sorbed it.

A good doctor knows his busi-ness. He not only can tell when to give medicine, but he knows when to give plain water, with a little pink stuff squeezed in it that smells good. He also knows when to stop the medicine part and advise a change of climate. A patient must have some finan-cial rating to be sent to the springs. Poor patients who must have the change, are advised wisely, that the best thing they can do is to swallow this, and hurry up and get back to work.

THE CONSUMER.

Before the Spanish American war the man who smoked tobacco bought a two ounce package for five or ten cents, according to the quality. Then, as now there were men so indifferent to their duties as citizens that they didn't smoke tobacco.

When it became necessary to raise money for the purpose of shooting the Spaniards and sink-ing their ships, a war tax was levied upon each package of the weed that cheers but not merr-ites. That would have been all right, had it stopped there, for the tobacco manufacturers, who form one of the strongest trusts in the country, were amply able to contribute something toward the victory of Dewey at Manila.

But the government, after im-posing this tax upon the manufac-turers, came to the conclusion that it wouldn't hit the consumers and so something must be wrong. The object of all taxation is to give it to the consumer where Calhoun gave it to the hen, and a tax that jolts the manufacturers without jarring the man who buys his stuff is a frightful outrage.

So the government gave the to-bacco trust the privilege of reduc-ing the size of a two ounce pack-age of tobacco to one and three-quarter ounces without reducing the price. Thus the tax was no tax whatever to the tobacco manu-facturers. They saved in tobacco what they paid to the revenue de-partment, and were as happy as the birds in the trees.

But the consumer got it in the same old place, he had to pay for two ounces of tobacco when he received an ounce and three quar-ters, and many worthy citizens were so disgusted and enraged over this imposition that they quit using tobacco and fell into a decline and died.

When the war was over and we had paid Spain $20,000,000 for a lot of bargain counter islands that belonged to us by right of capture the war taxes were gradually dropped and the tobacco makers with others ceased paying the tribute but in the haste and con-fusion of the time they overlooked the small matter of increasing the size of their packages to the old limit.

The consumer went right ahead getting it in the neck, he has been paying the war tax for ten years.

The government has at last pinched itself awake and is going after the tobacco trust with spiked shoes. It has a plan and the trust will have to disgorge. But where does the consumer come in? He has been held for a decade and the wise old government pays no attention to that phase of the case.

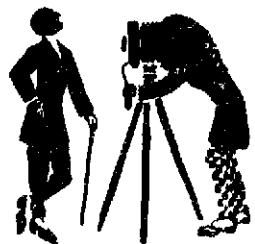

The consumer must go right ahead as usual, holding the sack Lampoon Gazette.

THINKING PEOPLE

Entering the field of thought, imagination, emotion, and mind, we perceive that in our race we are better more or less by conditions through which we have passed in the mental and physical. We are not disposed to criticize but wish to walk pleasantly with our fellows and to remind them that to see one's own self in the first great object lesson in thought. Leave off our intellectual, religious, and social regulations, as to what is the whole duty of others. They as we, are in the field of life and what we do in many things may not be seen by others as we see it. After all, the best one can do is to bear in mind that he is flesh and that no form of culture intellectual, civic, religious or political will dis-inherit one from his brethren. For all forms of classicism in the social, religious or intellectual we make St. Marks Liver Regulator, which puts to work the torpid liver. Keeps one from being crows, Hollan's Eye Water is Painless and keeps the baby from fretting. Be sure you have in your home, Tennell's Liver Pills, as malaria.

CLAYTON'S LETTER

ment on the Dingley law I do not think that the consumers, those who pay indirectly the tariff tax, as well as who contribute to the trusts sheltered behind a prohibitive tariff wall will receive any consideration at the hands of this Republican Congress. Everybody is anxious to get away from here no one more so than I am. I have been invited to make several speeches in diffent parts of the District, and I want to respond to these requests if possible. I will thank you to make mention of the fact that it is my purpose to come home and respond to these invitations as soon as I can.

With best regards, I am
Yours truly,
